"Void"

ignorance is bliss at least thats what they say you must be in 7th heaven each & every day talkin to yourself 'cause no one will listen i think you better check your brain i think theres something missing talking to you is like talking to the wall your thick as a brick you think you know it all when I see you coming I run the other way your always around I just cant get away Your a disaster just waiting to happen taking all the time but theres never any action all the lights are on but nobodys home please go away--just leave me alone
