I remember a past life
A life long ago
Memories are reveries
And visions fading into gray

I behold the paleness
With the glimpse of an eye
There's no friend in no man's land
Streets leading to wild frontiers

Let the torchlight shine above you
Scan a flashlight of a dream
Take the spell and hold the spirit of the flame
And rise up with the light

Holy fire glimmering eve
Follow traces until you believe
Light a candle for the magical ring
And wait until you see the night's breaking in

Am I walking the false path
The one of no return?
Counting strides the mind divides
The ever-turning wheel of time

Then I'm crossing the border
Beyond the no man's land
Lizard eyes and painted skies
The turning point right on my way

Let the torchlight shine above you
Scan a flashlight of a dream
Take the spell and hold the spirit of the flame
And rise up with the light

Holy fire glimmering eve
Follow traces until you believe
Light a candle for the magical ring
And wait until you see the night's breaking in

Holy fire glimmering eve
Follow traces until you believe

Light a candle for the magical ring
And wait until you see the night's breaking in

Holy fire glimmering eve
Follow traces until you believe
Light a candle for the magical ring
And wait until you see the night's breaking in
