By a long way we came there
And we kept our eyes peeled
We believe in our blueprint
Drawn by the slipstream of time without end

Not once, we saw the falcon rising
Not once, we saw horizons clear
And again we hear the ocean rushing
With all the questions at hand without end

Heavenward we keep on flying
In the lap of the Gods where we are
The legend, the key, the solar sea
Binds you forever

Once in a blue moon this moment
On these boundless traces we move
The cosmic array won't lead us astray
And we still demand the undiscovered land

We felt the narrow bounds within us
The lurking unknown in the dark
Still searching for the purple passage
Pink of perfection in hearts still so pure

Heavenward we keep on flying
In the lap of the Gods where we are
The legend, the key, the solar sea
Binds you forever

Once in a blue moon this moment
On these boundless traces we move
The cosmic array won't lead us astray
And we still demand the undiscovered land

Here and now by our sacred vow
We will prevail

Heavenward we keep on flying
In the lap of the Gods where we are
The legend, the key, the solar sea
Binds you forever

Once in a blue moon this moment
On these boundless traces we move
The cosmic array won't lead us astray
And we still demand the undiscovered land
