Today is hard to find and harder yet to hold It's paradise
If you love right through in time it comes to you, yeah
So walk in the sun now, life can be nice Just live to believe it and it's paradise
Ooh, paradise
Ooh, paradise

I know of misery, unhappy-endlessly
It's so hard to bear
Reach down into my soul, pick it up, take control
And then you're there
It's everywhere

And we can spend our days in paradise
If we love right through We got to love right through
We got to love right on through now
We got to love

Come on now and take my hand
And feel my love
Right on through to paradise
Oh, paradise

We resolve that we're here together in the bad times and the good
But when differences arise around us, we don't forget them like we should
And that's no good, so I'm over here and you're over there and
The truth between us sometimes hides
When I need you as much as you need me, well then, why must we take sides — sides

Many miles of ocean blue, separate our lives as we grow
And just because we're all different people, There's so much more to know
So much more to know
So I'm over here and you're over there and the truth between us sometimes hides

When I need you as much as you need me, well then,
why must we take sides

When I needed you as much as you needed me, well then, why did we take sides
