"How Many Miles"

Oh yeah...

Watching a face and a smile and a light
When you're walking alone in the street
I know your look always gives you the might Many miles from your ass to your feet

And I dream - what I've seen
Is what I want it to be - selfmade reality

How many miles to the gate of reality
How many steps left go to my dreams
How many miles to the land where my dreams come true
Dreams which come true just have died

Look like a queen but you talk like a pawn
And I know you're a fool in disguise
Godfather tell me how to carry on Blinded by fantasies of lies

And I dream - what I've seen
Is what I want it to be - selfmade reality

I see your smile, a golden masquerade
And I know my dream it will be my fate
Time has stolen my fantasy
Cause it become a pale reality
