Behind the gates we're hoping nothing will ever escape
Though it's not easy just to turn away
This war is never-ending, not today, no not this way
Something shines, covering holes as angels start to cry
Power in numbers as we multiply

Cause I saved you (saved you)
And I should mean something to you (mean this to you)
I betrayed you (betrayed you)
But I'm willing to start again new (start again new)
And I need you, you're my soul escape

You can't say everything is coming to an end
And can't be the voice of reason
That stops souls from running away
And I'm finding this today

Cause I saved you (saved you)
And I should mean something to you (mean this to you)
I betrayed you (betrayed you)
But I'm willing to start again new (start again new)

Saved you
Mean this to you
Betrayed you
Start again new
