The words are not there When you cannot grasp Your heart is scared Where can you go?

Turbulence, see out the storm Through matters of every kind Sails are torn, the anchor's gone Your words we will find

You will see me through You will see me through

Not unambiguous Components of deceit The inner workings Motivation's replete

Neither know nor need to know Subterfuge of thoughts so low Lead us to depend on you For you will see me through

You will see me through You will see me through You will see me through You will see me through

Glorious, my glorious I feel you breaking down on me Glorious, my glorious I feel you breaking down on me I feel you breaking down on me

You will see me through (Even then though my heart is scared) You will see me through (Even then though my heart is scared)
