She works a long night shift
and sees the birth of her days.
In the hope of deliverance
Gets on her knees and prays

This is her last day alive
It's one hell of a day to die

She takes a walk in the park
Opens the hole in her arm
She fell in love but fell too far
This is the ocean of dawn

This is her last day alive
It's one hell of a day to die

She works a long night shift
and sees the birth of her days
well we all hope for deliverance
On your knees and pray

This is my last day alive
Well it's one hell of a day to die

In the final minute of the final hour look anekatips around you will find We've all been wrong keep it up life long It's alive it's alive...

This is your last day alive
Well it's one hell of a day to die
