I wanna know why this feels so right
I wanna know why you hold me tight
Each and every night it keeps me up all night
Thinkin' about the things I like

Can't believe your in my life
I wanna know why you're the one
That thinks that they should
If you've already done

God sent you straight to me
You make me wanna sing
La, da, da, da

But when you look at me
Do you see your wife
Can you picture us loving each other for life
Are you playing the role just like the rest

These are the questions I ask myself
If another should come who's finer then me
And she'd wanna take your love away
Would you leave baby please
Answer these questions

Could this be my whole fantasy
Maybe you could just be too good for me
If I don't wait then I won't see
'Cause if I'm not the one you met
Then who is in me

In the mist of the tears how come
I love you more and more then one
I never longed for no one yes it's true
Seems like these questions keep me
Here with you

But when you look at me
Do you see your wife
Can you picture us loving each other for life
Are you playing the role just like the rest

These are the questions I ask myself
If another should come who's finer than me
And she'd wanna take your love away
Would you leave baby please

Answer the questions

If you really wanna be with me
Then I'll say I love you endlessly
One thing that I really wanna know
Will this end or will this throw us in now

If you really wanna be with me
I'll love you endlessly
One thing that I really wanna know
Will this end or will this grow

But when you look at me
Do you see your wife
Can you picture us loving each other for life
Are you playing the role
(The role)
Just like the rest

These are the questions I ask myself
If another should come who's finer than me
(Who's finer than me)
Would she wanna take your love away
Would you leave baby please
