Summer of '93.
What did you, want from me?
I'll take you out, to the show
You get to meet everyone I know.
What comes next I'll keep you guessing.
Come to see the life that you've been missing.
Chorus:
Everyone I know and
Everything I see
Everywhere I've been
It means so much
You meant so much to me.
They've made jokes, at my expense.
I'm my own worst defense.
Another night of being lost.
I'll see you at any cost.
What comes next I'll keep you guessing
Come to see the life that you've been missing
Chorus
Summer of '95,
I still don't think, that I'm alive.
Sometimes I can feel so drained,
But my friends are here I can't complain.
I've underestimated again the power of the words of all my friends.
Chorus
What comes next I'll keep you guessing.
Come to see the life you've been missing.
Chorus
