I am thinking of you today and everything that you are
I am caring for you today
Though tomorrow we'll have to part
And all these memories i hold
Someday might grow cold
But today you're everything, oh, to me
Oh, you are everything to me...

All the times that we've had
Through the good and the bad
Though i don't want to care
I remember every moment we shared
Though we said we'd be together
"tomorrow, tonight and forever."
In the back of my mind, in the back of my mind
Oh, i fear i will lose you to time
But today you're everything, oh, to me
Oh, you are everything to me...

Now someday i'll be telling you lies
To hide these feelings inside
And i know i'll confuse you

When the truth is that i just don't want to lose you
Oh time - you left me on my own
My time - with no place to turn
Your time - as the coils unwind
Our time - you are always on my mind

So remember these days
Cause the here and now, oh time will never change
And oh god, wish this moment could last
But at sunrise it'll all be in the past
And as the moon shines down its light
I'm so scared to let go of you tonight
Though i'll try to forget
Oh, i will never ever regret
That tonight you're everything, oh, to me
Oh, you are everything to me
Tonight you're everything to me
Oh, you are everything to me
You are everything...
