Never get close to the flame because the flame it can burn Better to not play the game than never to win at your turn Better to be on your own than trust a friend might betray Better not follow a dream - they don't come true anyway
Play to win not scared to lose Walk the path you choose Fortune favours the brave
Risking it all again and again
Fortune favours the brave
Fall after fall they climb up again Ignore the doubt and the fear, traitors to all you believe Now that you're getting so near, still they just try to deceive
Taking it risk at a time, trying to live every day Trying to know your own mind, never to care what they say
