Eels

Calling for your love

As a light begin to fade away in the instant sun time living with the hope
the carry us, each day
another life

I see rivers, frozen place boys with their games
play on the side
threads will break, light away in the night, in the night

And the light, breaks down
and the dawn breaks now

as the rule you follow
one away
about to say goodbye
