Blazin Squad - Where The Story Ends

From the album "In The Beginning"

(FLAVA)

i just want you to listen, troubled minds of the troubled times, keep yourself together, don't listen to other peeps, cause a lot can happen on the streets, and peer pressure is a killer, so listen to these wise words that i preach it aint safe out there, i know this from experience cause this is serious, and that's how lives get messed up, i took this time,
just eight bars to explain, to the kids what's up,

(KENZIE)

you're living in dangerous minds, dangerous times,
thug life,
you're growing up on the street all that crime i've been there before i've been through it i realise the pain, i'm drawn to it it feels terrible when you're on another level to the rest of them trainers, clothes, you're not in with the trend, it's just a teenage beef that's bothering you, it's just a phase in life you'll have to go through

(CHORUS)

you know i never will amount to you, but is it pain you gotta put me through you know i never will live up to you and all that you do

you never tell your enemies from friends and life will never be the same again you never know where the story ends, that's right my friend and that's where the story ends

(KRAZY)

i hear these things again and again and again dress to impress for a friend all it ever does everytime i hear will it ever stop it just sends me round the bend it ain't easy to be a teenager i should know it puts your life in danger do you ever really think that it will stop all the muggings and the bullys and the weapons, i think not

(FREEK)

i can sit and write lyrics all day, but my teenage problems never fade away, my fashion sense never led astray my smell my phone is what portrays the person that i am the person that is me whatever you believe, imagine or perceive a brethen or a chief educated or naive my popularity brings friends and enemies

(REPEAT CHORUS)

(ROCKY B)

teenage life you've gotta deal with it somehow no point in complaining, gotta live with it somehow unfair job but you're still with it somehow it ain't fair but you've gotta get through it somehow all the teenagers that have had enough that are tired of scuffs and just want love just take some time and unleash your mind and you will find it somehow

(SPIKE-E)

what's wrong kid could be making it?
teenager in trouble and you're hating it you wanna leave the crowd you're with lead your own life but i know you're scared of it in a week there's seven days 168 hours and a million ways everyday's different and your life will change trust me it'll never

(MELO-D)

growing up seems so hard when you're young you never wanna listen you just wanna have fun try to make things right but it soon turns wrong people say the best years come when you're young you never listen to what people say always wanna try and do things in your own way never think straight always play life as a game and in the end it's another life thrown away

(REEPA)

teenage troubles thoughts that run through your head trying to impress cause of what your mates said wanna get in the crowd you ain't got the clothes so you're out for a teenager that's what life's about the pressure of the drugs violence and racism that faces them

it's a part of life, don't ruin it for yourself or you might end up by yourself

(STRIDER)

if you think about back in the day of what you could have had but you threw it away to be the top boy on the street to be the boy everybody wanted to be can't you see?
