Every party you go, every sip that you take, you're getting further and further away You're blending into the floor, walked on still you want more, I hope that you hear what I have to say

Every moment that you spend wasted is a moment
you're wasting
You seize the trend and binge to fit in but look what your wasting

Every moment that you spend wasted is a moment
you've wasted
There's a choice to stay true and be you, but you can never make it

It's not easy alone, and that's something you've known
I don't blame for you for your past But you can't let it go, you won't let shit go, instead you choose to get down with another glass

It's not easy alone, and that's something you've known,
this life goes by so fast But you can't live it up because you're slipping up, give it up and then you can get that chance

Every moment that you spend wasted is a moment
you're wasting
You seize the trend and binge to fit in but look what
your wasting

Every moment that you spend wasted is a moment
you've wasted
There's a choice to stay true and be you, but you can never make it

Time spent is time we will never get back Life's tough, I'm glad I got that I've got my edge, and it will never fade, it will never break

When you blend in you really blend in And the person I knew isn't easy to see

I've seen the same and pain That a life spent with a bottle can bring

When you're drowning alone, and it's dark and it's cold, you can't see a ship in sight You dimmed your light, pushed off to sea, and drifted further and further away from me
