spikee

Now, im clear minded sitting in a room of my own
No one can touch me here or tell me s and nothing goes wrong

No one feeding these ideas into me, and I pain all alone

And this is how I would have put it before I was known
I was a kid on the street

Looking for nothing but peace

And with ability I expanded skills and my pay role increased

that's when I saw things around us that put ideas into me

And I was writing these ideas in my GCSE's

And now im getting off the point of these industry peeps

Little do they know I wont fail to succeed jealousy gets you no where

You know what they say about money and greed

10 school friends that wont stop, you gonna try telling
me

Now its me you want or my drive or my money but you lot can feel my flows, but you cus me on the street

But now im just gonna put it bluntly, I still have a lot of love

So im signing out now, yours sincerely me

chours

All we can do is hold on

When it too tough

All we can do is hold on when it gets to bad

All we can is hold on when it gets too much

All we can do is hold on hold on

kenzie

All we can do is hold on,

I see my click in the distance,

Slow down the light and hold off all my resistance

Here in the world with power and people living normal

Its like us who take everyday as it comes

And the next is a mystery

Cant you see the jealousy tends to be

The equivalent of you to me

But equally of me to you
I can see quite clearly from your point of view
So ill just live life fully and not care about you Creativity and hatred make it basically impossible To see myself where I wanna be
But I over come that easily Coz I got them mans behind me
You can take it or you leave it but I took the opportunity Hopefully your gonna see the best of me
And ill express myself to the peeps that believe in me
And I know you know and I know you can believe in me Coz the flows so tight everyone's starting to see

Chours
flava
Times changed but still rappings the same Flava the rap cat in this game
Battling the fame on the wrack
If was lean id sit back and watch and see from afar
And take it back
And then id fart in their faces and basic haters im switching places
And roll wavers and this time
Your tasting the wave of a raver
But ill battle till the end
And hold on to my friends
My motto in life the more you get the faster you spend freak
I just hold on and hope for the best
I find that topic a matter as I am put to the test
Its messed up how people can be fighting fighting Forever dying
Politicians lying
Suffering is multiplying
WE MAY BE YOUNG BUT WERE NOT BLIND!
And im aware of all the trouble and the times cry
But I just go about my business just like everybody else
I keep on watching hoping everythings going well

Chours
Melo-d
I took some time and sat down
And thought of these words to put down I put my heads in the clouds and badger all my thoughts out
And anything that I can think of good enough ill put down
But if not ill think again and dig some deeper s out Im tired of hearing all these people in my ear everyday
So quick to hate us never praise us

never see it our way
Is it our age
Or image
Style or flows that turn them away
And they never take the time to think about these words that we say

Bridge

don't let go of good life
When things go bad
Try to make them right
If the road looks dark then the futures bright
So hold on hold on
Use your heart don't ignore the light
Sometimes its hard just to stop and cry
So hold on hold on
