Faceless coward - slithering - the depths a mind can take

Blackened heart - alerting masses - a plan - the world to shake

Now no one will ever be the same

How could we have ever known? No prediction to have known

Will and honour - now be shown!

Standing unified - the nations will collide

Vengeance will be swift - we pray for your demise

The city begins to shake - behold the blackened sky

Unsuspecting people watch - can't believe their eyes

Terror unfolds - who to despise

How could we have ever known? No prediction to have known

Will and honour - now be shown!

We never will forgive - interrupt the way we live

Teach your people how to hate - run and hide, but it's too late

[Solo]

There is no place to hide - in time we'll hunt you down

The coward flees for life - our nations are abound

We will not stop until you're found

Standing unified - the nations will collide
