"Atomic Rage"

Seraphic shadows descend across the violent sky in search for life - amidst the terrace they shall loom the lifeless landscapes - a victim of it's own demise a legions reached it's impending doom

Through negligence - segregation will take aim as freedom falls - they all will pay from mass indignities - our nation will not fail victorious at any price

We fall through atomic rage

Holding onto the hand that waves no more release their spirits to the sky how can this be? the innocent is slaved by fury through corruption of mankind

Through negligence - segregation will take aim
from mass indignities - our nation will not fail
victorious at any price

All now is lost - by those we thought impervious to pain incredulous - deceit as we now lay here crucified
