Explore an ancient sea - a journey through the unforseen the legend told - can we believe a city under siege - submerged by endless seas could this be all but not a dream?

Will they return to tell the tale?
Or like the ones before who have failed

Radar detection clear - discovery is near through sun - light rays - the visions cast diving to the depths below - but who are they to know tranquility - a dangerous past

Will they return to tell the tale
Or like the ones before who have failed

Beyond the rustic gate - consumed in horror - it's too late soured by the ones who dwell you chose to venture - now you must burn forever lost in this forgotten world of pain

Will they return to tell the tale?
Or like the ones before who have failed
