"Mind Alterations"

Visit "Mind Alterations" on MotoLyrics.com

You close your eyes - do you feel the same a floating world - exists no fear no shame reality - a term that bears no meaning you spread your wings - to soar across the sky

You need the mind to slip away
to make it through another day

Losing yourself - within yourself
a promise made - for those who believe

A sudden turn - now journey into past to see the child - an innocent reflection you say the words - but no hears the meaning mirror's reflection - can't you hear me screaming?

You need the mind to slip away

Losing yourself - within yourself
a promise made - for those who believe

The world is ripped away - a light appearing you try to fly again - yet you were dreaming

You need the mind to slip away

Losing yourself - within yourself
a promise made - for those who believe

For those who believe
