Lie to me, say to me that it's all forgotten
Teach me things, I've never known
I can't bear to let them go
All the things you taught me

Tell me my heart's not broken
All the rest can wait until I find the way
To make it true again

Through the night I make my plans
I could win you back again
It will be tomorrow
Come the day, they fall apart
I can't seem to make a start
Because I'm sorry don't matter now

Tell me my heart's not broken
All the rest can wait until
I find the way to make it true again

Tell me my heart's not broken
All the rest can wait
Until I find the words to tell you
Find a way to make it true again

Lie to me
Say to me that it's all forgotten now
