God came down from heaven yesterday gave me somethin everybody else threw away made my life much beter than before to tell you the truth I can't explain too much at all

I can't tell anybody
what happened to me
I can't tell anybody
How does that make you feel ?

Crossing the street and the lights all look the same people seem hypnotized and incapable of change You start up your engines and you run all your life tryin' to find somewhere where you finally have time

I can't tell anybody
what happened to me
I can't tell anybody
how does that make you feel ?

time is a concept, that ruins everything time was a mistake, everything is the whole is impossible to a tiny little mind gotta take the leap of faith and leave death far behind

I can't tell anybody
what happened to me
I can't tell anybody
How does that make you feel
