You could be my silverspring
Blue green; colours flashing
I would be your only dream
But shining over oh shine crashing
And did he say that she's pretty
And did he say that she loves you Baby I don't want to know

So I begin not to love you Turn around and see me running I said I love you years ago
But I tell myself that you never loved me no

And did he say that she's pretty
And did you say that she loves you
Baby I don't want to know

Oh oh no
And can you tell me it wasn't worth it; really I don't want to know

Ooh oh ohohoh

Oh and time got its spell on you but you won't forget me
And I do know I could have loved you but you wouldn't let me
won't forget me
And I do know I could have loved you but you
wouldn't let me
And I follow you down to the sound of my voice which haunts you
No you will never get away from the sound of the woman that loves you
No you will never get away from the sound of the
woman that loves you
No you will never get away from the sound of the
woman that loves you
No you will never get away from the sound of the
woman that loves you
Oh and you could be my silverspring

Blue green; colours flashing
