You always had a way with words In letters back and forth we'd send Back when we were foolish kids
The world was only as big as a heart

And she walks just like I remember (just like I remember)
Like something's on her mind (something's on her mind)
And she said (and she said) that she would still
remember
When everything, everything was fine
I wish everything was fine

You thought we had it figured out
And nothing can stop us now

I wish we were those foolish kids
We could go back inside again

We always knew this night would come
But I could never give you up So just go on lying 'Cause we can just pretend

And she walks just like I remember (just like I
remember)
Like something's on her mind (something's on her
mind)
remember
when everything, everything was fine
I wish everything was fine

You always knew it was the right way
The right way to make a point in everything I'm gonna make up for last time I'm gonna make up for this I'm gonna wake up and rewind

And she walks just like I remember Something's on her mind

And she walks just like I remember (just like I
remember)
Like something's on her mind (something's on her
mind)
remember
When everything was fine
