I need a reason to believe
That this world isn't fucked and rigged
And crashing down on me
I need a reason to believe

No matter how hard I try
I can't squirm and fight my way out
I slip back with every single step taken
And I lose a little bit of hope with every failed attempt
I'm crawling up just to break even
Only to realize it's not better up here
And I still have a mountain to climb
At some point something's got to give

I need a reason to believe
That this world isn't fucked and rigged
And crashing down on me
I need a reason to believe

It's the same old story just a different day
For this messed up life--no one changes no escape
I'm scared of living my life, right now I'm living to die
This disease tells the reason why
Should I follow in fear or follow my dreams?
I just want a chance to be okay with me
I have nothing and no where to go
At some point something's got to give

I need a reason to believe
That this world isn't fucked and rigged
And crashing down on me
I need a reason to believe
At some point something's got to give
I need a reason just to live!
Give me one reason to strive
I need to feel alive

I need a reason to believe
That this world isn't fucked and rigged
And crashing down on me
I need a reason to believe
