Give it away
Nothing's worth keeping that you can't say

Lose it, strip yourself down
It's giving away can always be found

All that you have is all that you need to be

Take it, knock yourself out
You need what you want and what you need is now

Too many times to live again
You can't speak so what did you mean

First out, last in, time is passing, future changing,
Action waiting, colder, warmer, days are longer,
tasting,
Waiting, complicating

Can comforts place be ours to keep
From hours to days, from days to weeks
