I don't know what I was thinking when I've seen her
I just had to find a way I could meet her 'Cause I've been dying for the chance just to treat her Like the ripe little peach she is

Wouldn't even cross my mind to deceive her
She could lie through her teeth and I'd believe her
I don't know her but I know that I need her
And I don't think she's got a notion but

That's the girl I've been telling you about
Ain't she everything I said and a whole lot more
She got it going on and I never want to be without her

That's the girl I've been telling you about
She's been spinning in my head like a revolving door
Her smile is like the sun and my whole world revolves around her

There's something to be said about a woman's intuition
I think she's heard a thing or two about musicians
I'm a singer so she thinks I'm on a mission
Now all she wants to do is melt my cool

But I asked her out and told her we could have fun
She laughed at me just like a honeymooners rerun
She said my chance of dating her was either slim or none
But that don't mean I'm gonna listen

'Cause that's the girl I've been telling you about
Ain't she everything I said and a whole lot more
She's got it going on and I never want to be without her

That's the girl I've been telling you about
She's been living in my head like a recurring dream
Her smile is like the sun and my whole world revolves
around her

She lives in my head from the start of my day till night
I must be out of my head for hanging on her so tight

That's the girl I've been telling you about
Ain't she everything I said and a whole lot more
She's got it going on and I never want to be without her

That's the girl I've been telling you about
She's been raining in my head like a pouring storm
Her smile is like the sun and my whole world revolves
around her

Like a soul in the wind I've been lost since the day I found her
What I'd give to be everything she needs like the air
around her
Got my arms open wide wish she knew they belong
around her
