So where's the one you've been searching for.
Is he hiding somewhere or just inside your head?
You've built this prison by yourself.

I can see you falling in front of me,
Don't make it so easy,
I can see your not getting anywhere,
So pretend this was never yours.
Now you'll suffer, you'll suffer just like us,
So don't tell me where we go from here.
Waiting for your final answer,
Just give it up, just burn in hell.

You built this prison by yourself,
I can see you falling in front of me,
Don't make it so easy,
I can see your not getting anywhere,
So pretend this was never yours.
I can see your falling in front of me,
Your making it easy.

You built this prison by yourself,
Dug this grave with your own hands,
Pretend this was never yours.
I love the way you lose yourself,
It makes it easy to forget you,
Pretend this was never yours.

I can see,
Your falling in front of me,
Don't make it so easy,
I can see your not getting anywhere,
So pretend this was never yours.
I can see you falling in front of me,
And your making it easy,
Your not getting anywhere.
And your not getting anywhere, with me.
