

Bleu Edmondson

"Another Morning After / The Night Before"

Visit "Another Morning After / The Night Before" on MotoLyrics.com

I aint got nobody
I don't have a bridge to build
Better safe than sorry
Mama hide the sleeping pills
It's another morning after the night before

I remember how you tasted
Dangerous, sweet, and kind
Young and we were wasted
My God, you always shined

Another morning after the night before
Another morning after the night before
Red eyes staring at an open door
In the same clothes that I wore
It's another morning after the night before
Girl you used to own me
Gasoline, fire and soul
I remember what you told me
Said it's live and die, rock and roll
Another morning after the night before

Another morning after the night before
Another morning after the night before
Red eyes staring at an open door
In the same clothes that I wore
It's another morning after the night before

Visit Bleu Edmondson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.