Lovers carve names in the sand

I wrote our ones on a rock face

Now that you're gone words they stabd

I'm climbing again chisel in hand

Pain carved my soul whith a slash

Pain carves a ditch of foundation

How many tower must crash...

... down until the ditch is deep enough to hold up my tower, this desperate hour

the toil and the pain

the anger i stand to... must end!

CHORUS

Cutting off the wires is cutting my veins

I'll put out the fire with blood like rain

Wringing out my heart rather living in pain

Back from the start doing it all again...

How could you do that? We were as one,

just like a mother and son

Bonded by one cord you forced me to bite

Bonded by blood you deny

I can but love you, thanks for conception

Even if living is pain

But your love soon died in separation,

It's never to rise again...

CHORUS

Birth is pain, life is pain, life is death

Mother you killed me, may forget

May you be fulfilled, slow down the run

May we end less worse we can, death at once!
