I find myself, a little bewitched by you
I find myself, a little beguiled
I find my friends repeating your name
Then I find myself doing the same

Chorus:

Finding myself lost again
Finding myself lost again
Losing myself by what I find
Finding myself loosing my mind

I praise myself, for having made a life alone
I praise myself, for working so hard
I give my praise where praise is due
I'm swapping that praise in praise of you

Finding myself lost again
Finding myself lost again
Losing myself by what I find
Finding myself loosing my mind

It seems that I have taken quite a shine to you
And it's seems that I'm in a mood to seduce
It seems that you have read my mind
Must be that we're the loosing kind

Finding myself lost again
Finding myself lost again
Losing myself by what I find
Finding myself loosing my
Finding myself loosing my
Finding myself loosing my mind
