"Where In The World"

I wonder where you are?
I wonder where you've been?
I wonder which way I should face to face you now?
Where in the world are you?
I wonder if you can see the same bit of the moon
That I can see from my bedroom window?
Where in the world are you?

In this desert I'll be.
But I want to get back home.
(I left my heart in London again)
Back home.

I'm moving too slow, following roads,
Finding my way back to you.
Where in the world are you?

I say yeah, yeah, yeah I'll never leave my heart again
