Look look look look look look
Look into my eyes
My my my my my my goodness how do you do
I I I I I think I recognise you
I think I'd to know you
How how how how how
How likely is that to be
See see see see see see
I'm not so sure we've got much
Much much much much
More to offer you here

So please take your time while you browse
Is there anything you like?
Does it fit? Count you in?
Does it feel right inside?
Should we put out the flags?
Or should we sing that funeral song?

I am struggling to find a reason to stay
Like this I wish I ready right now
Now now now we'd be living again, living again
All these dis-trac-tions - like a building collapsing
Round my ears, hear the voices again, again again
Can we pay back our dues? So overdue

Again, again, we go around and again
It's not to late but we get delayed every day
Again, again, we go around and again
Do we need to go round again?
