Here she comes down the street and that look is in her eye

And the way she looks, if looks could kill they might
All the kids down in the street run away
When she goes by it's the end of the day
So believe what they say, there's danger in the air

Look through a window and you'll see her standin' there

She's the latest of the greatest with the wind blowin' in her hair

The prima donna, she's back in town
And you'll see her for miles around
So believe what they say there's danger in the air

Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead

Monday mornin', she's already up and gone
Ah, she knows what she wants and she knew it all along
With her entourage on either side
Just one look she can't be denied
So believe what they say there's danger in the air

Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead

Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Here is new threat likened

She's got a reputation that's way ahead of her time
She's got adulation that's way ahead of her mind
Everybody runs around to please
When she looks in the mirror, she just has to freeze
So believe what they say, there's danger in the air

Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead

Beware, there's danger ahead
The endless summer is dead
Look out, there's danger ahead
