Someone knocked my door 'round about half past four this morning
Despite what I said, I was out of bed still yawning Well that's it once again, someone knocking Going through my head wish they'd stop it!
I walked down the stairs just a little bit scared - apprehensive
With a few judged words that shouldn't be heard reprehending Well that's it once again, someone knocking Going through my head wish
they'd stop it So I opened up just to take a look, was I dreaming? There was no-one there just the cold night air - I was dreaming
