Time after time, time after time
The skies are darkening they grow so dim
Strangers are meeting but it never ends
And one day they'll remember, one day they will know

Time after time
From far away there comes a warnin' sound
Time after time
And no one listens but it's all around
And one day they'll remember, one day they will know

Time after time no hiding anywhere
Time after time the visions in the air
Time after time they come from everywhere
Time after time, time after time

Time after time
Just listen to the sirens of the world
Time after time
They breathe a whisper waitin' for the word
Time after time
And one day they'll remember, one day they will know

Time after time
Time after time it is the same old story
Time after time
Another footstep on the trail of glory
And one day they'll remember, one day they will know
Time after time

Time after time no hiding anywhere
Time after time the visions in the air
Time after time they come from everywhere

Time after time, time after time
The beauty of the earth from way up high
Shines like a jewel upon the velvet sky
And one day they'll remember, one day they will know

The skies are darkening they grow so dim
Strangers are meeting but it never ends
And one day they'll remember, one day they will know

Time after time
Time after time no hiding anywhere
Time after time
Time after time the visions in the air
Time after time
Time after time they come from everywhere
Time after time

[Incomprehensible] no hiding anywhere
[Incomprehensible] no visions in the air
[Incomprehensible]
They come from everywhere
