Let's begin again
And take me back to then
I want to see the end
Of what has gone before

And I'll be grateful for
The things I had before
I couldn't miss you more
Than I do now

But don't try to shut me out,
When all I want is what you have,
And in time you know that all of this will pass.

I'm not the one that let you down,
I'm not the one who'll get you out,
I'm just answering the questions that you asked

So come on and lose your frown,
I'm not the one that brought you down,
I might be wrong, but I'm not trying to pretend.
