"Much More Inside"

Where are you going?
I heard you say I'm going nowhere, you're in my way
You're just like an iron ball and chain That's wrapped around tightly, around my brain and you start squeezing
But I will never lose my mind
Cox i've got so much inside I just try to walk away
Its just material
Crazy, more likely
Is what I said
You're going nowhere around my head
This distance between us is killing me
But keeping it real, I'd rather be, and I will never lose my mind
Cos i've got so much more inside I just try to walk away
Its just material
