Let's sit up down

I'm here alone all by myself with no one else
I need someone to share these thoughts about myself
I don't know who I can trust
(Trust)
(Oh yeah)
This picture's starting to rust
And as I press upon myself a form of torture
I write these words for someone else just like an author
I don't know who I can trust
(Trust)
I don't know who I can trust

Everybody, won't you come with me?
We'll take a ride across the sea
When we get there if we don't drown
I'll turn your whole life upside down
(Upside down)

And later on with each illegal breath I take
I lose resistance for an instant to my fate
How I'll miss you when you are gone!
Oh yeah
I'm a number lower than one
I'm on my own, I think this stuff is getting stronger
I'm wide awake and I can't take it any longer
How I'll miss you when you are gone!
I'm a number lower than one

Everybody, won't you come with me?
Help me find what I can't see
I'm sick of crawling along a ground
Help me turn my world around

Everybody, won't you come with me?
Everybody come with me
If I don't find what I've come for
You won't see me anymore

Sometimes it's hard just to find some piece of mind
It feels like I am going crazy almost all other time

And if we can't live this way then what will I do?
Like my father and my mother, I'm depending on you

You've got to fight just to keep your piece of mind
You've got to hold on tight, don't cross that line
Sometimes I cry like a baby when I look outside
I'm on a losing streak, driving through moss side
Like a river deep or the ocean wide
Like a river deep or the ocean wide
Like a river deep or the ocean wide
There's a crack in a wall but I just can't hide
(Can't hide, can't hide, can't hide, can't hide)

Can't
