No one would cry, no one would ask me why
No one would see, no one would lay down here with me
I don't wanna fly, I don't even want to try
I just wanna be, but no one would ever set me free, oh

All my angels, were made in England oh so well
You miss me she said, and it's true
There's no one else only you

Sometimes I see, you laying next to me
I wanna believe, but all I can do is sit and dream, oh

All my angels, were made in England oh so well
You miss me she said, and it's true
There's no one else only you

Now all I can see, is you laying here with me
We're gonna get high, so come on and fly away with me

All my angels, were made in England oh so well
You miss me, she said, and it's true
Please believe me oh I do
All my angels, with silver rings and cockle shells
You miss me, I said, and it's true
There's no one else you
And it's true, there's no one else only you
