You should know the way I feel
It's not easy to conceal
Things I've said and things I've done
Exeptions from the rules
Although I'm trying to reject
I still wonder what to accept
When she's standing there, so innocent
Looking at me with a smile on her face
CHORUS
Watching you
Standing in the dim light
Watching you
Hiding in the dark night
Watching you
While the rain is falling
(It's a hard rain)
You should know the way I feel
It's not easy to reveal
Words of love or words of pain
Kept inside my heart
After all I'm trying to accept
That there is something incorrect
When she's standing there, with a hold on me
Smiling while bringing me down to my knees
REPEAT CHORUS
