I see them marching down
With hate in their eyes
The sun is hiding
When darkness fills the skies
The boys are so young
But still they have to leave
I hear their president speaking
A whole nation he deceives
But I am not the one who cries
CHORUS
It's time to go
The other side is calling
It's time to leave
Everything behind
The wounds are growing
In a nation full of hate
No sight of solutions
In a deeply polluted state
Foreign leaders trying hard
To rule the game
But what can they do
When there is no-one to blame
But I am not the one who cries
REPEAT CHORUS
