How could I ever do those things to you
How could I ever talk like that
I just want to say
Those words was not my own.
How could things ever come to this
CHORUS
Forget what I had in mind
I never ment a word of it
Now I'm searching for those words
Which are hard to find
I really don't know what to say to you
Some words they never come easy to me
Now I'm standing here again
With no-one else but me to blame
I feel so lose within this crowd
REPEAT CHORUS
