I see them marching down with hate in their eyes
The sun is hiding
when darkness fills the skies
The boys are so young but still they have to leave I hear their president speaking a whole nation he deceives
But I am not the one who cries
CHORUS
It's time to go the other side is calling It's time to leave everything behind

The wounds are growing in a nation full of hate No sight of solutions in a deeply polluted state Foreign leaders trying hard to rule the game
But what can they do when there is no-one to blame
But I am not the one who cries
REPEAT CHORUS
