How could I ever do those things to you how could I ever talk like that I just want to say those words was not my own.

How could things ever come to this

CHORUS

Forget what I had in mind
I never ment a word of it Now I'm searching for those words which are hard to find

I really don't know what to say to you some words they never come easy to me

Now I'm standing here again with no-one else but me to blame

I feel so lose within this crowd

REPEAT CHORUS
