She comes like a stranger with forgotten shame dressed up in memories again and there is nothing i can do When I see her coming I close my eyes when I feel her presence I hear her lies smooth hands are reaching out

CHORUS

Strange words are reaching me condemnting me just pulling me back down into the darkness of my fragile mind here tonight

I feel the beating of my heart when a word of silence tears me apart my anxiety is bringing me down I'm trying so hard to repress what I see but she's standing so strong in front of me I'm so lost within her arms

REPEAT CHORUS
