More than motion, more than hope.
More than love unties my rope.
Each breath a fight when morning calls.
More than love can feel my falls.
So calculate each feeble limb.
Stand by me through all my sin.
Exceed my needs when i've done wrong.
The battles bleed into, bleed into a single song.
A song.
Come bind the light of two.
Inside of me and you.
Nights have fallen long before.
On those nights i've hit the floor.
Into the night my silence screams.
And calm is taken as it seems.
But known to me a soul who knows.
The power of those darkened blows.
Standing in my mirrored world.
The battles bleed into, bleed into a single song.
A song.
Come bind the light of two.
Inside of me and you.
I want to see through your eyes sometimes.
So that i won't mind when you're wrong sometimes.
I'm wrong sometimes.
I'm wrong sometimes.
