These are my afterthoughts of when
I am far beyond wishing, there's something missing.
No longer focusing on everything
Of which revolves around me, i can see clearly.

Logically speaking, it's so unpredictable,
Everything is so much easier said than done.

There's no more to believing, we must find,
Find a way of knowing, to keep us growing.
Establishment of how you feel and hold on to what you're found yourself, resentment's going.

Logically speaking, it's so unpredictable,
Everything is so much easier said than done.
Show me, don't tell me, make it easy for me to see.
If you present something, know that it's real.

Sleep sweet my darling, don't you cry,
Cause tomorrow i'll buy you the answers why.
Sleep sweet my darling, don't you cry,
Cause tomorrow i'll buy you the answers...

Logically speaking, it's so unpredictable,
Everything is so much easier said than done.
Show me, don't tell me, make it easy for me to see.
If you present something, know that it's real.
