I don't know if I want you here tonight
Hoping that I'll see the morning light
Scared to learn to love someone that's new
Even if I think it could be true

You've made my mind seem to spin
You've made my world turn within
I somehow feel alive

I wanna believe in love
Now the door is closing
The scariest thing to me is that
I think I hold the key

I wanna believe in love
Now the door is closing
The scariest thing to me is that
I think I hold the key

I really think I need you here tonight
Help me see the darkness turn to light
Every day the world would disappear
Till one o'clock when this dream's end drew near

If losing you is losing me
Without you near
Just what will be?
Tell me that I'm crazy

I wanna believe in love
Now the door is closing
The scariest thing to me is that
I think I hold the key

I wanna believe in love
Now the door is closing
The scariest thing to me is that
I think I hold the key

Sometimes I think I'd rather stay here with you
Can I feel your heartbeat?
Sometimes I think I'd rather stay here with you

Can I feel your heartbeat?

I don't know if I want you here tonight
Hoping that I'll see the morning light
Scared to learn to love someone that's new
Even if I think it could be true

You've made my mind seem to spin
You've made my world turn within
I somehow feel alive

I really think I need you here tonight
Help me see the darkness turn to light
Every day the world would disappear
Till one o'clock when this dream's end drew near

If losing you is losing me
Without you near
Just what will be?
Tell me that I'm crazy

You and me
