You'll always be inside my thoughts
'Cause I can keep things perfect
There the way it could have been

If this life is a game then I wonder
If we could ever win

I don't understand a thing you said
Sometimes you seem so far away
From me

I always live in tomorrow and you live in today
But you found your way inside my world
And it seems, you're there to stay

You'll always be inside my thoughts
'Cause I can keep things perfect
There the way it could have been

If this life is a game then I wonder
If we could ever win

I don't understand a thing you said
Sometimes you seem so far away
From me

I always live in tomorrow and you live in today
But you found your way inside my world
And it seems, you're there to stay

We both sat down and then we made a wish
And I looked at you, you looked at me
And then I said, "Good bye"

We both sat down and then we made a wish
And I looked at you, you looked at me
And then I said, "Good bye"

We both sat down and then we made a wish
And I looked at you, you looked at me
Your eyes said more than you know

We both sat down and then we made a wish
And I looked at you, you looked at me
My wish just didn't come true
